

STANLEY GARFINKLE OF American Newstand is making the rounds with pal Charlie Moskowitz and writing him notes instead of talking. Stanley's got a sore throat so he carries pencil and pad . . . Two guys in the Place for Steak and one said to the other: "In all the years I've known you, you haven't changed. You look a lot older, but you haven't changed" . . . Hot trio in the Bonfire's Pinto Lounge is the Monte Alexander group. Alexander, from Jamaica, looks like a baby and can play 12 instruments, but he's best on the piano.
